The retrieval of the uploaded content for the participants is possible starting on September 22nd, 2022.

Supporters who have received an invitation link from a participant of the BMW BERLIN-MARATHON 2022 can access this JOYBOX via their browser using the link and upload greeting messages to the JOYBOX after entering their name. The processing of the associated personal data is based on the terms of use, available at: https://run-for-joy.com/storage/pdf/joybox-tnb_DE.pdf.

The legal basis for the lawful processing of your personal data results from:

- A) Article 6 Para. 1 lit. b GDPR for the performance of the contract in accordance with the terms of use: The name is required for each greeting message. This is displayed to the participants when the greeting messages are retrieved. The extent of the upload is determined by the supporters and is done by clicking on the button "Send to "XY" JOYBOX". Uploaded greetings are stored in the respective JOYBOX and made available to authorised participants for retrieval.
- B) Article 6 Para. 1 lit. f GDPR based on a balancing of interests: As part of the provision of the JOYBOX, log and protocol data of the IT systems are processed to ensure IT security. The assertion of legal claims, the defence in legal disputes and the review and/or deletion following reports of unlawful content or unlawful use are also based on the balance of interests.

- C) Article 6 Para. 1 lit. c GDPR to comply with legal obligations, such as obligations under company law, contractual law, data protection regulations, civil law or supervisory law, in compliance with the relevant legal provisions.

To fulfil our contractual services and legal obligations, personal data is partly processed by external service providers if this is necessary and legally permitted for the fulfilment of the aforementioned purposes. In doing so, we always observe the provisions of data protection law; in particular, processing by service providers used by us only takes place after conclusion of contracts with a corresponding confidentiality clause.

All data subjects have the right to information under Article 15 of the GDPR, the right to rectification of their data under Article 16 of the GDPR, the right to erasure under Article 17 of the GDPR, the right to restriction of processing of their data under Article 18 of the GDPR and the right to data transfer under Article 20 of the GDPR.

Right to object:

In accordance with Article 21 of the GDPR, data subjects also have the right to object at any time to the processing of personal data concerning them.

A) Individual right of objection pursuant to Article 21 Para. 1 GDPR

You have the right to object at any time, on grounds relating to your particular situation, to the processing of personal data concerning you which is carried out on the basis of Article 6 Para. 1 lit (f) GDPR (data processing based on a balance of interests). If you object, we will no longer process your personal data unless we can demonstrate compelling legitimate grounds for the processing that override your interests, rights and freedoms, or the processing serves to assert, exercise or defend legal claims.

B) Right to object to processing of data for direct marketing purposes pursuant to Article 21 Para. 2 GDPR

Should we process your personal data in order to carry out direct advertising, you have the right to object at any time to the processing of personal data concerning you for the purpose of such advertising. If you suspect that we are processing your data unlawfully, you can of course seek judicial clarification of the issue at any time. In addition, any other legal option is open to you. Irrespective of this, you have the option of contacting a supervisory authority in accordance with Article 77 Para 1 GDPR. The right of complaint pursuant to Article 77 GDPR is available to you in the EU member state of your place of residence, your place of work and/or the place of the alleged infringement, i.e., you can choose the supervisory authority to which you turn from the places mentioned above. The supervisory authority to which the complaint has been submitted will then inform you of the status and outcome of your submission, including the possibility of a judicial remedy pursuant to Article 78 GDPR.

6.) Transfer of data to a third country or an international organisation

We sometimes transfer personal data to third countries or international organisations. A list of these services and service providers, which may be used in the context of the provision of the JOYBOX, can be found in the further course of this document.

Third countries are those countries outside the EEA where the GDPR is not directly applicable. The level of data protection is not comparable to that in the EU. In order to compensate for the existing data protection deficit in the event of a lack of an adequacy decision, we have agreed with the affected service providers in the third country or with the international organisation on further appropriate guarantees for the processing of personal data in addition to the standard data protection clauses, so that the data protection standards for these data transfers are compatible with the legal data protection provisions of the EU and an adequate level of protection is ensured when processing the personal data.

7.) Voluntariness and obligation to provide personal data

The use of the JOYBOX is basically voluntary. If you wish to use the JOYBOX, the registration and login data are necessary and contractually required, based on the terms of use. Failure to provide the data will result in your inability to use the JOYBOX. Only the file formats described in the upload section can be uploaded, and they must not be larger than specified there. We have marked the information that is voluntary in the respective data collection form.

8.) Automated decision-making, profiling

An automated decision-making in the sense of Article 22 GDPR does not take place.

"Profiling" is a form of automated processing of personal data evaluating personal aspects relating to a natural person, in particular for the purpose of analysing or forecasting the data subject's performance at work, economic situation, health, personal preferences or interests, reliability or behavior, location or change of location, where this produces legal effects concerning the data subject or similarly significantly affects him or her. Your data will not be processed for profiling purposes by SCC EVENTS GmbH.
